EXPERT KNOW-HOW
Marianne Shillingford

"It's simple to create a bedroom sanctuary away from the hustle and bustle of everyday life. Try painting your walls in pretty pale pink Pressed Petal combined with Bright Skies. This fresh blue can be used to define a space that needs a different feel, such as a dressing area."

Bedroom sanctuaries

A combination of cocooning colours brings instant calm

Getting a good night's sleep is about more than a comfy bed – it's dependent on a tranquil space. Soft, toning colours, such as subtle pinks and purples, and an uncluttered look set the mood for snoozing. Here, we've chosen Cornflower White as the main wall colour, contrasted with rich Acai Berry.

CONTINUE THE COLOUR
Rather than buying a headboard, painting one on the wall is a great way to add impact without bulk. It's also more cost-effective than buying one, plus you can update it when you fancy a new look. We've chosen Acai Berry Dulux Simply Refresh Feature Wall – a sumptuous shade that blends beautifully with soft pinks, pale greys and even muted mustard tones. Mark out the height of your painted section using string and chalk, then use masking tape to ensure a crisp line. Head to our YouTube channel for our easy to follow video that shows you how.
Cluttered rooms stimulate the senses, so opt for simple, pared-back displays, and choose colours that tone in. After applying a suitable primer, we painted this small shelf in Polished Pebble Dulux Quick Dry Satinwood – a neutral grey that complements the wall.

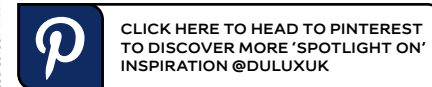

Eco Win: Using Simply Refresh means you only need one coat – so you'll save on how much paint you buy as well as saving on time.

Opt for pared-back displays and complementary tones

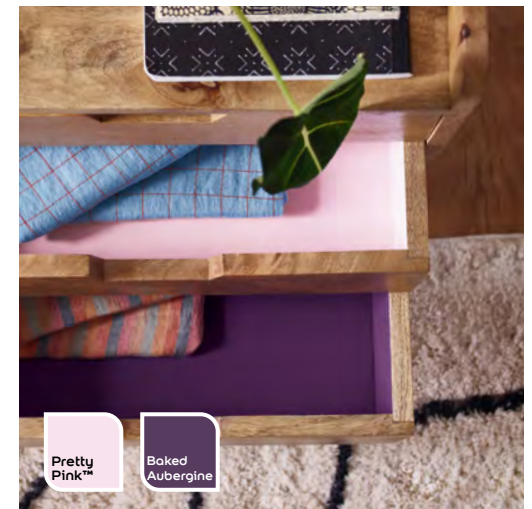

ADD POPS OF COLOUR

Creating a calm bedroom doesn't mean you can't introduce brighter colours. If you have spare wood and metal paint from another project, why not use it to decorate the inside of drawers, wardrobes or cupboards? It's an ideal way to breathe new life into a tired piece of furniture. Stick to the same shade or choose coordinating colours. We've used Baked Aubergine and Pretty Pink in Dulux Quick Dry Satinwood – pastel tones that add a fresh feel.

The weekend project

Create a connection between inside and out with colour

Outdoor areas can be overlooked when you're decorating. However, by including them in your plans, you can create a harmonious inside-outside space that works as one, and makes both areas feel more spacious. Carrying a design from an inside wall through to the outside is an easy way to establish a connection, and it couldn't be simpler to achieve. All you'll need is a free weekend and basic tools.

AFTER

- Nutmeg White™
- Caramel Latte™
- Almond White™
- Black

- Sandstone™
- Gardenia

Go beyond the usual plain white kitchen and create a warm, tactile space with earthy colours and natural textures. We've painted a graphic slice of Caramel Latte Dulux Simply Refresh One Coat across the interior wall, with Sandstone Dulux Weathershield All Weather Protection Smooth Masonry Paint continuing outside to seamlessly unite the two areas. Extra impact comes courtesy of kitchen units and skirting boards finished in rich Black Dulux Quick Dry Satinwood – an unconventional choice that's contemporary yet adds a cosy feel when paired with wooden worktops and a matching range cooker. Fresh neutrals are the perfect backdrop, with complementary shades of white, such as Nutmeg White and Almond White, on the kitchen wall, and Gardenia for the garden wall. Finish the look with plenty of natural greenery in the kitchen, increasing the connection with the outdoor space.

Eco Win: If you have leftover paint from this project, why not try painting planters and pots in the same shades for an easy coordinated look? This works well outside too, so don't forget to decorate the exterior.

EXPERT KNOW-HOW
Marianne Shillingford

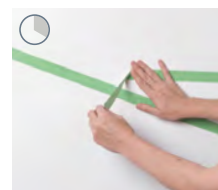

"You can use colour outside just as you would inside. For example, if your garden has grey paving, choosing a matching colour for the masonry will make the area feel instantly more spacious."

PAINT A GRAPHIC SHAPE

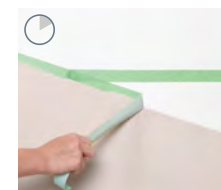

10 minutes
Once you've painted the wall in whites and it's dry, decide on the basic layout of the design and at what height it should begin. Wipe a piece of chalk along the length of your string. Pin it to the wall at one end and select the angle.

20 minutes
Hold the string taut and 'ping' it to leave a line. Using the tape, mask along the line, then repeat for the intersecting lines. Repeat for the other colours.

30 minutes (+ drying)
Stir paint well before pouring into the tray. Paint up to and slightly over the tape line with a roller in Caramel Latte Simply Refresh One Coat. Leave to dry.

10 minutes
Carefully remove the masking tape and admire the results.

EASY UPCYCLE
Got some hand-me-down furniture in need of a facelift, or a junk-shop find you'd love to transform? Upcycling is the way to go. Paint will breathe new life into a piece. If you're keen to boost your storage, try upcycling a dresser, shelving or sideboard. Clean, sand down and use a wood primer, then apply two coats of Black Dulux Quick Dry Satinwood to the exterior and Perfectly Taupe inside. Once dry, add new handles as a finishing touch.

Eco Win: Reinventing a worn or tired piece of furniture is a great way to use leftover paint.

IN THE FRAME

If you don't have enough leftover paint for a large project, try this quick picture frame makeover. Almost any wooden frame will do – just clean, sand and apply a suitable primer before you start to paint. Next, choose your colours – pretty pastels work well. We've picked Melon Sorbet, Copper Blush, Lemon Pie, Nordic Sky and Teal Tension Dulux Quick Dry Satinwood. Apply two coats, leave to dry, then hang on a colourful wall – ours is in Pressed Petal Dulux Simply Refresh One Coat – to showcase works of art or decorations.

My colour story

Paint can transform rooms and lives: influencers and communities share how colour has made a difference

OLIVIA MITCHELL

GO GRAPHIC

"When my husband and I moved into our new-build home in Aberdeenshire, all the walls were white. Rather than just picking a colour and painting a wall, we wanted to do something different. We spend most of our time in our living-dining room and in the corner is our Cockapoo Skye's dog bed. Her space looked so dull, so we decided to brighten it up. I found the idea of using geometrics on Pinterest. The colours we chose were inspired by one of the pieces of art we have by Scott Naismith. He paints vivid pictures of the Isle of Skye, which also inspired Skye's name, so it seemed fitting to choose similar bold shades to create this colourful corner. Now she doesn't have to look at a boring wall all day!"

BRING IN THE SUNSHINE

"We moved home last December, just before going into lockdown. So although we were in the house from Christmas until April, we didn't feel fully settled in. All the homeware shops were closed and we couldn't buy new furniture. It became a priority for me to make my house a home. Our bedroom was the first room I wanted to decorate – making it feel cosy, warm and colourful was important. I'm very attracted to colour, it injects so much personality into a space.

"As it was spring, I wanted to paint something that represented sunshine and I loved the idea of creating an arch in this yellow shade. Now my painted headboard is a standout feature of the house. We have so many grey days that it's lovely to have that little piece of sunshine all year round."

My colour story: In the community

YMCA DICKERAGE COMMUNITY CENTRE

After supporting local residents for more than 30 years, the YMCA Dickering Sport and Community Centre in Kingston upon Thames needed a revamp. In partnership with VIY (Volunteer It Yourself), an organisation that transforms community buildings across the UK, Dulux helped at-risk young people learn professional decorating skills, and also donated paint as part of the Let's Colour initiative. "We've had many young people helping on the project... and [the centre] is now more multicultural and multi-generational than ever before," says Dan Slocombe, Centre Manager.

GRAMPIAN WAY PLAYGROUND

The mural in this Slough playground is more than bright colours – it's the result of a community coming together. Created by a local artist using paint supplied by Dulux, left over from the TV programme Changing Rooms, of which Dulux is an official sponsor, it's a backdrop that celebrates diversity. Local volunteers, as well as employees from Dulux's parent company, AkzoNobel, helped with the project.

It's 18 years since a previous mural was created on the wall, which also used paint donated by Dulux. An untouched piece of the original remains as a tribute to the 2003 project. "We knew that the playground was a lifeline for the community during lockdown and is important to many nearby, so creating a new mural here was the perfect project," says Alison Furness at AkzoNobel.

The mural was created as part of Dulux's Let's Colour initiative, which looks to bring communities together through the power of paint

Reduce, Reuse and Recycle, then make good choices with water-based and durable solutions

1 Start by choosing a paint with low VOCs (volatile organic compounds). These evaporate, contributing to the formulation of greenhouse gases. Try the Dulux Quick Dry range – it's a water-based, low-VOC paint that is a better alternative to solvent-based paint.

2 Choose long-lasting paint to reduce how often you redecorate. If you live in a busy household, try durable Dulux

Easycare Washable & Tough. Only buy as much as you need – use a paint calculator online.

3 Another good idea is to reuse leftover paints for other projects. Why not upcycle a piece of furniture or planters?

4 Recycle what you don't use or pass it to friends, neighbours, or a local group. Community RePaint collects leftover paint from donation points. Find your nearest at communityrepaint.org.uk.

Ask Dr Dulux

“I’d like to add colour to my home but don’t know how to start. Could you offer some advice?”

MAX, ABERYSTWYTH

IDEA #1

GET INSPIRED

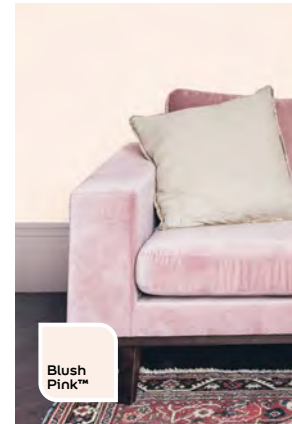

Deciding which colours to use can be the hardest part of decorating. One way to choose can be to take inspiration from your own wardrobe. A favourite item of clothing works well as a starting point for a colour scheme, as it'll already be in a shade you feel comfortable in. Combine complementary tones in the same way as you would an outfit, with bolder colours as accents.

Tranquil Down™

Polished Pebble™

TRY A FEATURE WALL

Blush Pink™

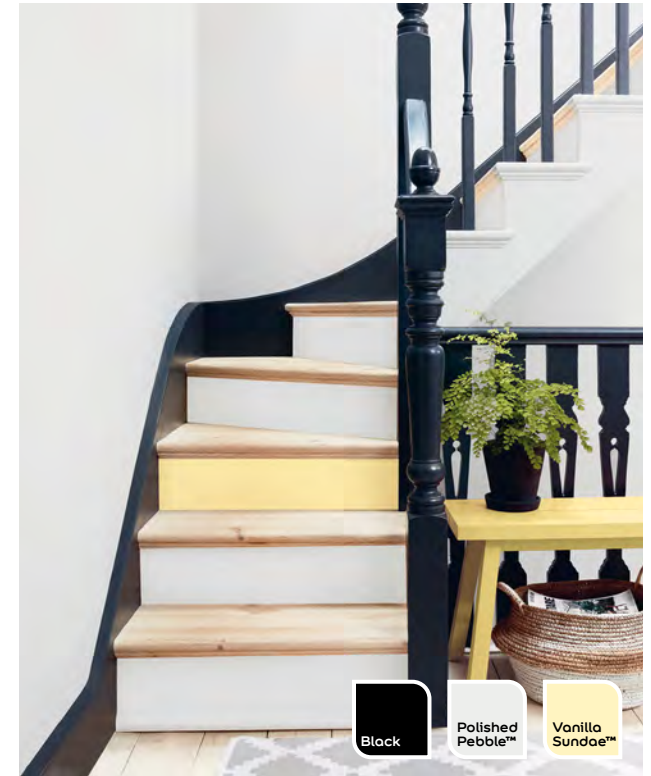

Moving away from neutrals can feel daunting but colour can make a huge difference to your home. If you find mixing and matching a challenge, a good place to start is by choosing a shade for a feature wall for your largest room – whether it's the lounge, dining room or kitchen – and then using that as a starting point for a whole decorative scheme. Layer it up with furniture and larger pieces in the same shade to intensify the colour, or choose a few well-placed accessories as a subtle nod to it.

CHOOSE YOUR HUE

Colourful doesn't have to mean bright or bold, so think about choosing soothing tones for the spaces where you relax and unwind. Powder pinks, sky blues and earthy shades are perfect for creating a focal point without dominating a room, plus they're easy to accessorise with natural materials – think rattan pieces, chunky woven throws, wooden furniture and warm metallics. Try Dulux Simply Refresh One Coat in Blush Pink.

PAIR BOLD SHADES WITH NEUTRALS

There are no fixed rules for using colour but if you're new to painting in brighter shades, remember that you don't have to go all in – less can be more. Rather than coating all four walls in a bold hue, use colour for the woodwork, a feature wall, or even just a section of a wall. Using colour sparingly like this is an easy way to highlight features in the room or to define different areas. For example, if you have an archway, try painting it in an eye-catching shade to create an interesting focal point, or use colour to carve out a workspace zone.

Accents can work all around your home, so take a look around and consider adding a splash of colour in unexpected areas. Why not create a cheerful welcome in the hallway by giving your staircase a colour makeover? Just paint some of the uprights in your favourite shade, while keeping the rest in a neutral tone. The staircase above has risers painted in soothing Polished Pebble, with a pop of Vanilla Sundae every third step. Skirting, balusters and a banister painted in Black frame the lighter shades and add impact. You can echo the colour in the accessories, such as a painted bench, table or mirror, and in the artwork or statement lighting.

For a more nuanced look, paint each upright of the stairs in a slightly paler tone of the same colour as you go up the stairs, creating a beautiful ombré effect. Shades of blue or green are ideal for this and will give your staircase plenty of wow factor.

Eco Win: Don't throw away old paint tins – upcycle them. Cleaned and decorated, they can be used as planters or pretty storage pots. Alternatively, punch out a pattern of holes, pop in a tealight and use as outdoor lanterns.

* colour mixing – available in selected colour-mixing stores.

Ask Dr Dulux

“I want to brighten up the outside of my house. What paint should I use?”

MARIE, DONCASTER

You asked and we answered – in this issue, we focus on one of your most commonly asked exterior decorating problems

Dulux Weathershield Ultimate Protection; Multisurface Quick Dry

- 1 ADD WOW TO WALLS
The outside of your home has to withstand rain and shine, so give its masonry some love. Dulux Weathershield Ultimate Protection Smooth Masonry Paint is perfect for gorgeous exterior walls, and protects them against severe weather conditions for up to 15 years.
- 2 DECORATE DOORS
Front doors are the first thing visitors see, so a fresh coat of paint can make a huge difference to your kerb appeal. Dulux Weathershield Multisurface Quick Dry Satin is ideal for exterior wood as well as uPVC and metal surfaces, and has a weatherproof film that protects against mould and stains. It's also flexible to prevent the paint from cracking over time.
- 3 REFRESH YOUR GARDEN
Finished painting your house? Put your leftover Dulux Weathershield Ultimate Protection Smooth Masonry Paint to good use and makeover your garden walls too. A coat of paint is the ideal way to take plain brick from drab to fab and it'll offer the same protection against damp and cold conditions.

PROBLEM SOLVED

“I want to update my kitchen. What's the best paint to use?”

KERI, WEYBRIDGE

It's easy to move away from white by painting your kitchen in one of the latest shades

CUPBOARD LOVE

It's easy to refresh tired kitchen cabinets – just use Dulux Quick Dry Satinwood, which is available in lots of colours. You'll need to use a suitable primer first so the paint adheres properly – try Dulux Primer & Undercoat for wood or Dulux Difficult Surface Primer for MDF and melamine doors. Head to our YouTube channel to watch a handy how-to video.

WASH AND GO

Treat your walls to Dulux Easycare Kitchen. It contains a greaseproof formula that stops stains soaking in, plus you can wash the walls without the colour fading.

Dulux Easycare Kitchen; Dulux Quick Dry Satinwood

Ask Dr Dulux

“We have a growing family. How can we make the most of our small space?”

ANDREW, ABERDEEN

An understairs area can become a secret nook for play and reading – just add colour and imagination

However compact your home, chances are that there are parts of it that can be transformed into something new. Think cupboards with the potential to be a downstairs WC or a loft that's ripe for conversion. The space below the stairs usually ends up as storage, so instead of leaving it filled with clutter, try turning it into a children's hideaway. All you need to do is paint it with cheery colours and geometric shapes, plus a curtain that keeps the space concealed when playtime is over for the day. Here, we've chosen a fun combination of Dusted Fondant, Banana Split and White Cotton on the walls inside, providing a colourful backdrop that's sure to encourage creativity. Then we added shelving for toys and books, and a comfy daybed for lounging together, finished with festoon lighting to create a nook they can call their own. What are you waiting for? It's playtime!

A colourful backdrop and geometric shapes are sure to encourage creativity

KNOW-HOW
Matt Gray

"Efficient roller technique is key to achieving the best results when painting, whether the shade is light or dark. Apply your paint roller in a W shape on the wall. Go over the W with an M shape to fill in the gaps, then reload your roller and move onto the next section in the same way."

"How can I create a peaceful, spa-like bathroom?"

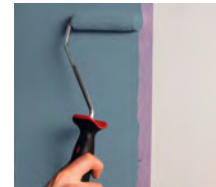

SALIMA, SHEFFIELD

We all need a place to relax at the end of a long day and for many of us, it's the bathroom. A soak in the tub or a therapeutic shower restores our calm. However, no one wants to stare at walls that have seen better days. A lick of paint is just the thing to bring your bathroom back to life. Dulux EasyCare Bathroom paint is ideal – it's durable and resists moisture, steam and mould for up to five years. Choose a calming natural shade, or a fresh blue tone, such as Mineral Mist or Marine Splash. Next, add some handy storage painted in coordinating shades to keep surfaces free from clutter. Finally, finish your space with plenty of lush greenery – perfect for hanging or an empty corner.

STYLE YOUR SPA

Choose a soothing neutral colour

Before you start painting, clean the walls and mask any fixtures. Use a roller for the main area and cut in around the edges with a paintbrush. Leave to dry.

Add a decorative splashback

Add colour and pattern with a painted panel. It's easy to create your own with a stencil, just repeat the pattern. Watch our how-to video on YouTube to see how it's done.

Banish the clutter

For a spa-style space, try to keep clutter to a minimum. Hide accessories away in a vanity unit or add a hanging rail.

Bring in the greenery

Add plenty of plants for an exotic vibe. Greenery that loves humidity is best, so think Monstera, bamboo, palms or aloe. Peace at last!

“How can I work out if a colour is right for a room?”

MICHELLE, HYTHE

Step away from the magnolia! Roller your paint on with confidence thanks to these practical tips

DO use roller testers – and plenty of them. Rather than paint the colour directly on the wall, paint pieces of A4 card or lining paper, and use the advised amount of coats (usually two). This will allow you to move them around the room, so you can see what each colour looks like on every wall. Put the painted cards next to artwork, behind furniture or above floors so you can see how the colour looks.

DON'T make hurried decisions. Try viewing the painted cards from adjoining rooms, at different times of the day with different light sources, and mix and match them until the right combinations appear.

DO consider natural light. For example, a north-facing room tends to have cooler natural light, so warmer shades often look better – think colours with pink, gold and yellow tones rather than those with blueish undertones. East-facing rooms are bright early on but become cooler as the day progresses, so opt for blues and greens to balance out the morning light.

DON'T forget about formulation. It's important that your newly painted walls will stay looking good for years to come as well as be the right colour. Dulux EasyCare is perfect for busy homes and high-traffic areas, such as hallways, lounges and dining rooms.

DO download the Dulux Visualizer App. Use it to take a photo of your room, which can then be virtually 'painted' in a huge choice of colours. Not only does it allow you to be as adventurous as you like with colour combinations, you might also discover the perfect mix, or a shade you might not have previously considered.

Call the professionals

Wondering what to ask the pros before they decorate your home? We've got you covered

IN TRUSTED HANDS

It's a big undertaking to have work carried out in your home, so knowing your tradespeople come recommended can offer real peace of mind. By choosing a professional from the Dulux Select Decorators scheme, you can relax knowing that they have been rigorously assessed for quality workmanship and superior industry knowledge.

BEFORE WORK BEGINS

Ask your professional about what safety precautions they routinely take and the equipment they use, to ensure both you and they are safe. These might include a risk assessment ahead of work starting, avoiding unnecessary visits to your property, maintaining a safe distance and, where necessary, wearing PPE while they're in your home. It's best to agree a plan before the job starts for peace of mind all round.

PAINT PERFECTION

Talk to your decorator ahead of time about what type of paint you'll need for the job, and the different finish options available. As the name suggests, matt paint is smooth and velvety, helping to hide imperfections, while satin and silk offer mid-sheen finishes that reflect a bit of light. Eggshell sits somewhere between matt and silk, while gloss offers a high-shine finish. Ask your decorator which they'd recommend for your job, and why.

CAREFULLY SELECTED FOR YOU

Our Dulux Select Decorators have been expertly selected with our customers firmly in mind, and their work comes with our guarantee. It's the directory you can trust for top decorators in your area. Go to duluxselectdecorators.co.uk

The ultimate toolkit

Choose your tools correctly first time around and you can reuse them again and again

THE BASICS

Don't spend a fortune on lots of tools. Instead, invest in the essentials upfront, and buy additional items as and when you need them

Synthetic-bristle brushes

Versatile, long-lasting and well suited to the application of water-based paints, a collection of different-sized synthetic-bristle brushes will see you through most decorating projects.

Roller and tray

For large surface areas, a roller is recommended as it applies paint faster and with a more even finish. A medium-pile roller should do the trick for both ceilings and walls.

EXPERT KNOW-HOW Matt Gray

"Keep the door to the room you're working in firmly shut, so kids and pets stay safely out of the way. Ensure ventilation is good before you begin, to reduce the smell and help fresh paint dry. Wear safety glasses to shield your eyes from any spray from the roller. Finally, decorate in decent natural light and avoid the temptation to rush. Good work takes time – and the results are worth it."

THE PREP SET

Spend that little bit of extra time on prep before you begin painting – it will make the rest of the decorating process much less painful!

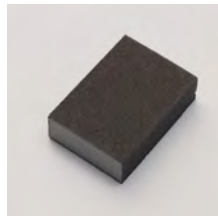

Dust sheets

Protect floors and furniture by covering exposed surfaces by using a filling knife to apply the right filler to damaged areas. Be sure you swap to a more flexible filler (decorators' caulk) where walls meet woodwork.

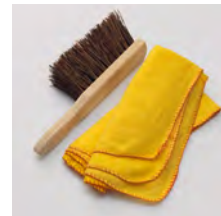

Filling knife

Buy different grades of sandpaper to make prep smoother. Look out for flexible blocks as these can be used on a variety of surfaces, such as doors and skirting.

Sandpaper and sanding blocks

Have dusting cloths and a brush to hand as they're useful for getting rid of dust and wiping down surfaces before painting, especially if you've sanded beforehand.

Dusting cloths and brush

Invest in masking tape to protect surfaces you don't want to get paint on. Good-quality tapes also reduce the risk of paint seeping underneath and give visibly sharper, cleaner lines.

Masking tape

A good one to keep in your toolkit, this thin low-adhesion tape is ideal for masking off everything from wallpaper to freshly painted surfaces that haven't cured yet, leaving a crisp painted line behind.

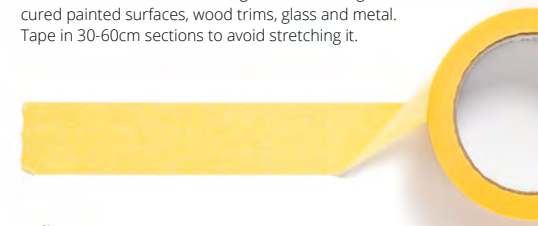

Get the edge

Wondering which masking tape to use for which job? Here's our handy guide

Standard

Turn to this general, all-purpose tape when you're creating sharp lines and graphic shapes on a wall. Its medium adhesion makes it great for masking cured painted surfaces, wood trims, glass and metal. Tape in 30-60cm sections to avoid stretching it.

Delicate

This tape is the one to turn to if you're masking off curvy shapes, such as circles, arches and waves. It's stretchy and flexible, making it easy to follow undulating lines, and has medium adhesion, so it stays put while you're creating your masterpiece.

For curves

When applying tape, use short strips so they won't get tangled, and overlap the edges. Then seal the edges by running your fingers back and forth over them.

THE PAINT PICKS

Add to your decorating arsenal as you work on different projects around the house – building your toolkit as you go means you don't end up buying unnecessary items

Stirring stick

Being able to reach all areas in the room safely is crucial, so make sure you use a good-quality stepladder that's tall enough for the job.

Stepladder

Painting large surface areas and hard-to-reach places can be made easier by attaching your roller to the end of an extension pole.

Extension pole

Like brushes, rollers come in all different sizes, so there shouldn't be any surface area you can't paint.

Additional rollers

Clean brushes with this dedicated comb. Used at an angle to remove excess paint from bristles, it makes cleaning easier and quicker.
